

Make a compass!

Today's Bible reading was a big reminder that some people live their lives pointed towards God, but lots don't. As Christians, we need to keep ourselves pointed towards God even if lots of people around us are pointing away from Him. So why not make a compass to remind you of that lesson?

Instructions:

1. Cut out the circle and the compass pointer above. If you haven't been able to print it on card, you might want to cut out some card in the same shape and stick the pieces above to those card shapes.
2. Decorate the compass pieces with your own designs and colours!
3. Make a hole through each piece at the spots marked by the black dots (and ask an adult to help with this!) and attach the pieces together with a split pin.
